Deep Well Disposal of Toxic Waste May Come to Romulus

by Dave Atkins

It is a well-known fact that this country must do something about the toxic waste that plagues us.

Landfills are not the answer for toxic waste. In fact, many landfills throughout the nation are causing our water to be contaminated because of the toxic waste seeping into our ground-water supply.

What was thought to be safe 30 years ago, with regard to landfill areas and what they can accept, is now being found to be hazardous to our health and the health of our families in the future. Something must be done, and done in a hurry.

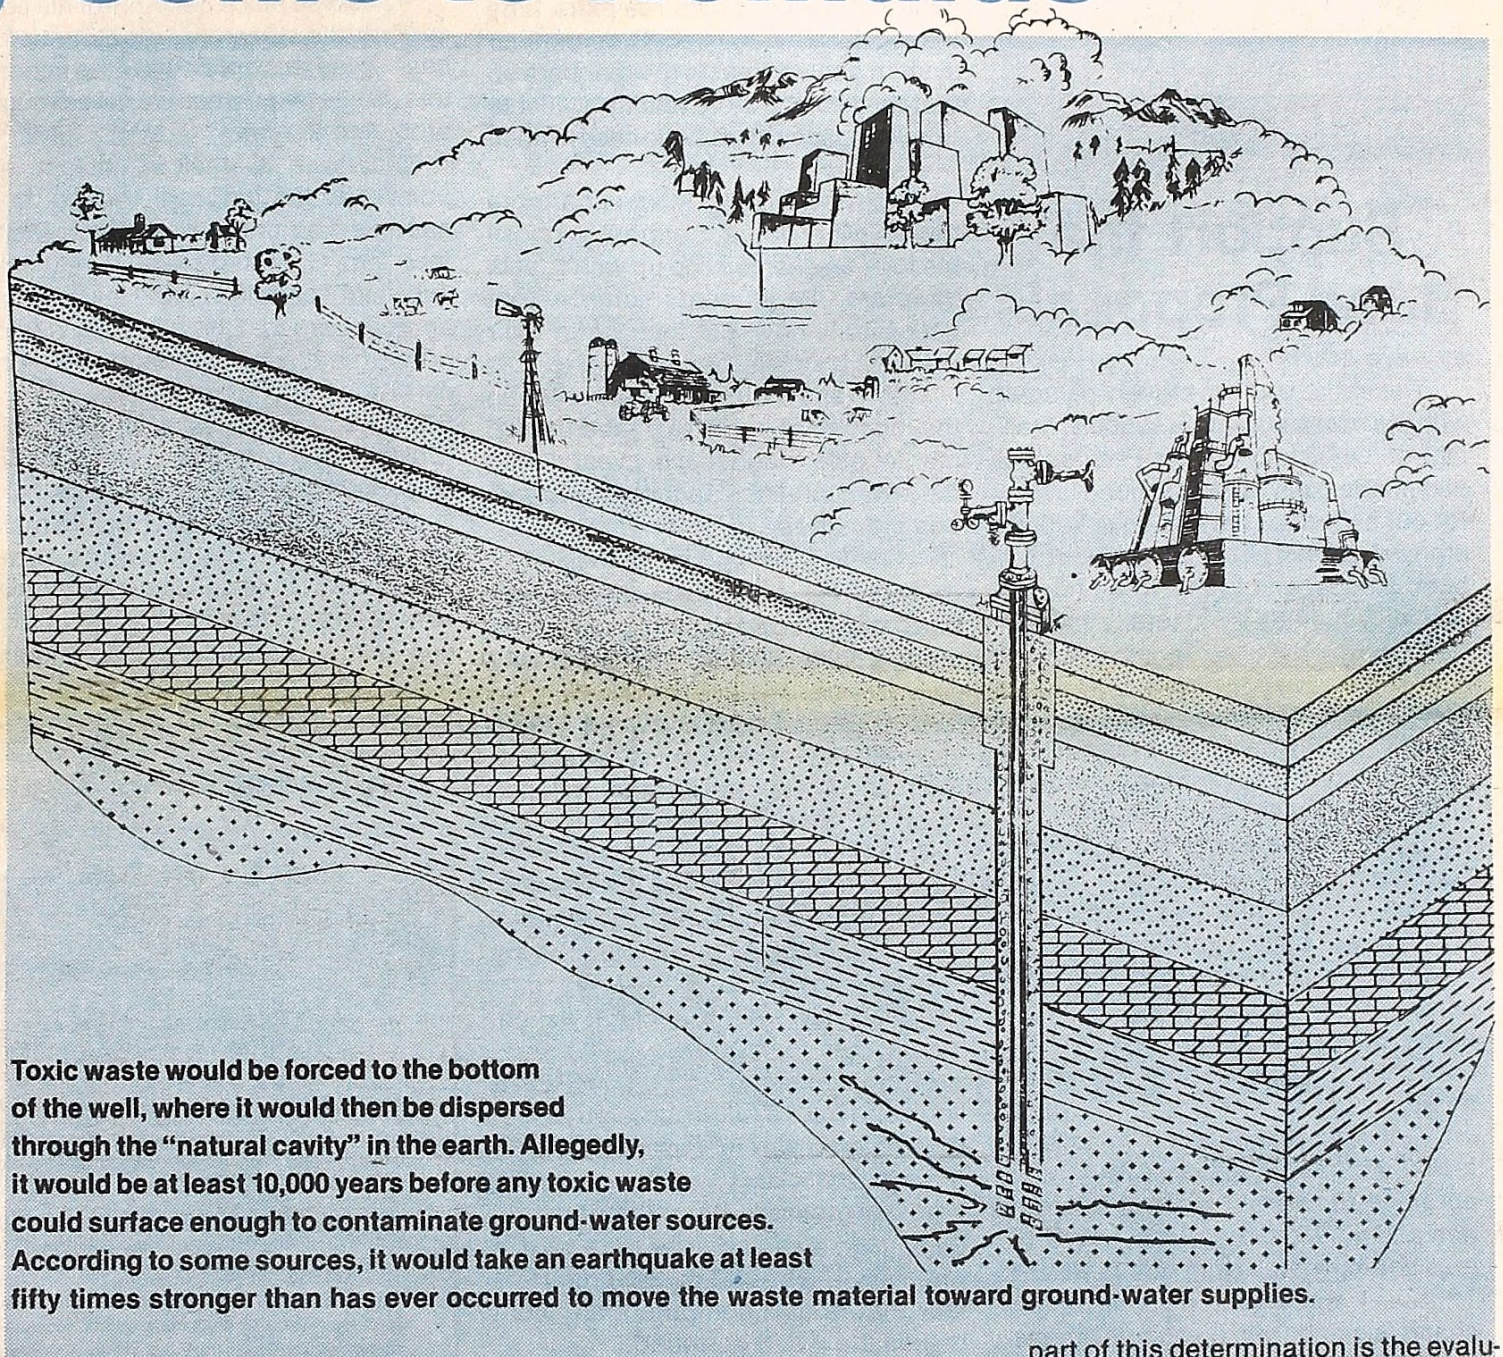

The most recent innovation (one that's becoming more popular daily) is the deep well disposal method. This method has been used for many years in the oil industry and it has been proven to be the safest method of toxic waste disposal to date.

When I was approached about this matter just a few days ago (actually, I have known about it for some time now), I asked many questions that were bothering me about deep well disposal, especially the deep well disposal of toxic waste. These wells are drilled to a depth of approximately 5,000 feet — about 3,500 feet below the surface water levels. According to the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA), it would take almost 10,000 years for any toxic waste to surface enough to harm our drinking waters.

In an attempt to explain how these wells work, I am reprinting part of a brochure called "Injection Wells: An Introduction To Their Use, Operation And Regulation" published by the Underground Injection Practices Council in cooperation with the United States Environmental Protection Agency. If, after you read it, you have any questions, you may want to call Douglas F. Wicklund (President of Environmental Disposal Systems, Inc.) at 642-4214 during normal business hours. (Note: The wells being discussed below are known as "Class I Injection Wells" — the type of well now being proposed for location on Wahrman Road in Romulus.)

Hazardous Class I Injection Wells

Hazardous wastes are those industrial wastes that meet the definition in 40 CFR Part 261.3 under Section 3001, of Subtitle C of the Solid Waste Disposal Act, as amended by the 1976 Resource Toxic waste would be forced to the bottom of the well, where it would then be dispersed through the "natural cavity" in the earth. Allegedly, it would be at least 10,000 years before any toxic waste could surface enough to contaminate ground-water sources. According to some sources, it would take an earthquake at least fifty times stronger than has ever occurred to move the waste material toward ground-water supplies.

Conservation and Recovery Act. Class I hazardous waste wells are located in 15 states. A high concentration of these wells is located along the Texas-Louisiana Gulf Coast because this area offers a combination of suitable injection zones and large numbers of waste generators. The Great Lakes region also has a high concentration of Class I hazardous wells for the same basic reasons.

Municipal Class I Injection Wells

Municipal wastes, which are not specifically defined in the federal regulations, are wastes associated with sewage effluent that has received a minimum of secondary treatment. Disposal of municipal (treated sewage effluent) waste through injection wells is currently practiced only in Florida. In Florida, this waste-disposal practice is chosen more and more often due to a shortage of available land, strict surface-water discharge limitations, extremely permeable injection zones and cost effectiveness.

Site Selection and Distribution

Site selection for a Class I disposal well is dependent upon geologic and hydrogeologic conditions, and only certain areas are suitable. Most favorable locations are generally in the mid-continent, gulf-coast, and great lakes regions of the country.

The process of selecting a site for a Class I disposal well involves evaluating many conditions. Paramount in the consideration, is the determination that the underground formations possess the natural ability to contain and isolate the injected waste. An important part of this determination is the evaluation of the history of earthquake activity. A well would not be located in an area of geologic instability. Also the existence of abandoned wells, mineral resources and underground sources of drinking water are identified and evaluated.

A detailed study is conducted to determine the suitability of the underground formation for disposal. The receiving formation must be far below any usable ground waters and be separated from them by confining layers of rock, which prevent fluid migration into the ground water. The injection zone in the receiving formation must be of sufficient size and have sufficient pore space to accept and maintain the injected wastes. The region around the well must

The Editor's Opinion

Support the Bond Proposals

by Dave Atkins

Recently, you have been deluged with meetings at various schools, mailings of the District's paper, Perspective, and phone calls about the bond issues for our schools. I have been asked, by many residents, how I feel about the bond issues, and I have to be honest and tell you flatly that I totally support them.

"As much as you have written about how badly our kids are educated, how could you possibly take a stand in support of a bond issue for the schools?" some of you may ask.

Using an old Richard Nixon term, "Let me say this" about that!

Yes, I most definitely have made some pretty scathing remarks about how our kids are educated and, no, I am not changing my mind in the middle of the stream — on the contrary, I am reinforcing it. Let me tell you what I mean.

First of all, I support the millage renewal so that our school system can continue to operate without interruption and our kids' programs — sports, music, etc. — can also continue.

Yes, I agree that we need many changes, not only in our school financing systems, but also in our city, county, state, and federal systems, attitudes, spending, and taxes.

Back to the bond issues.

Recently, I saw on National television where many colleges are starting to use computers to teach various subjects because the ability to use high technology will be expected of those entering the work force in the next 10 years and into the twenty-first century.

From what I understand about this bond issue for the Romulus Schools, the money received from the bonds would prepare our children for the future and possibly give them a head start compared to children from other districts similar to ours.

The biggest reason that I am in favor of what our school district is proposing is that it will let our kids learn at their own speed. Those children who are slower learners will be able to take their time with their studies and comprehend the material better, while those who learn at a faster pace can continue on without being held back. Also, if they are learning from a computer that is programmed to teach them at their own speed, I believe that the kids will adapt much more quickly to the subjects they are studying, rather than having to suffer with adjusting to a teacher who either cannot or will not take the extra time they so desperately need. The computer system should free up the teachers so that they can be more readily available to help those students who need it most.

With technology advancing more rapidly every day, it is almost impossible for a teacher to keep up with it, and, therefore, the students suffer — not necessarily now, but later on in their lives.

More and more people are entering the job market every year, and the job market gets tougher every year due to the advancement of technology in various industries.

It isn't like it was, for example, when I was in school. Back then, you learned math, English (which I was never very good at), history, and possibly a little biology. That, however, was 40 years ago. At that time, if you graduated from high school, it was about all you needed to get almost any job you wanted. That is not so today. You could usually get into just about any college with a "B" average back then, but, in today's world, that "B" average would probably be the equivalent of only a "D—" average — and it will get even tougher in the immediate years to come.

Computers are the "in" thing, and if you don't have a good comprehension of them, you may just as well hang up the curtain because it's all over. Frankly, I hate computers. I don't understand them and I think that they are a pain in the neck — but that doesn't alter the fact that, today, computers are what makes the world go round.

To make it short, if we deprive the kids of the opportunity to learn by computer, I frankly think that we are depriving them of their livelihood in the most immediate future.

From what I can learn, the money from the bonds, if approved, will basically be used to take our kids into the job market of the future. Yes, some of the money will be used for building but, as I understand it, none of the bond money will be used for teacher salaries.

Yes, I think we need the operating millage renewed and, yes, I am sold on the bond issues. I strongly urge you to support at least the first two propositions. As far as the swimming pool is concerned, that is something that you can make up your own mind about (as, of course, you can with the other two issues). Frankly, I can take or leave the swimming pool. □

Candidates/Issues Endorsed

by Dave Atkins

New Judgeship, 34th District Court
(Mark Maironis and Felix Rogalle)

Endorsement: Felix Rogalle

I feel that Rogalle is better qualified for the newly created judgeship at the 34th District Court because of his years of practical experience in the courtroom under the conditions of which our legal system actually works.

Wayne County Commissioner
(Milt Mack and Vic Gustafson)

Endorsement: Milt Mack

I endorse Mack because of his concern for the citizens of the County. He has proven this concern by the actions that he has taken when we have brought problems to him.

However, if Mack is, in fact, appointed to the judgeship which there has been so much talk about, then I feel that Gustafson would make an excellent commissioner. He is sincere and concerned. Should Mack decide not to run again, Gustafson would receive my full support.

State Representative, 37th District
(Dolores Carmichael and Jim Kosteva)

Endorsement: Jim Kosteva

I believe that Kosteva should maintain his office for many reasons, two of which are that he deserves the chance to complete those projects he has begun for the community's good, and that he already has "hands-on" experience.

I do feel, however, that this could be a closer race than expected, especially if the "no incumbent" drive catches on.

United States Senator

(Carl Levin and Bill Schuette)

Endorsement: Carl Levin

In my opinion, Schuette would better fill the position of a bus driver. His dirty campaign may have cost him the respect of many who would have otherwise voted for him.

Governor

(James Blanchard and John Engler)

Endorsement: James Blanchard

Of the two, I have to go with Blanchard, hands down. He's the lesser of two evils.

Airport Bond Referendum
Not Endorsed

A "no" vote on this issue would be appropriate due to the County's lack of responsibility in its overall operation.

School Propositions I, II, and III

Proposition I and II endorsed; no stand on Proposition III

Three school proposals face Romulus voters. Proposition I, being only a renewal, will not increase our tax rate, and its passage is necessary for the uninterrupted operation of our schools and their programs. I also support Proposition II. (See my "Support the Bond Proposals" elsewhere on this page.) I am not taking an official stand of the third proposition (natatorium facility) because there are so many pros and cons to the issue. Personally, however, I support Proposition III, and will vote in favor of it.

I've made my choices. Be sure to make your choices on November 6. □

Halecreek Open House

by Joann Bjork

When Halecreek Elementary School throws an Open House, everyone shows up! That's what happened on Tuesday, October 16. Students and families of Halecreek had an informative and enjoyable time thanks to the cooperative efforts of Lynne Mossoian, Pat Carter, Laura Blankenship, Joann Bjork, Jan Green, Clair Ayotte, Arlene Watchmaker, Molly McGlynn, and the Keep the Pride Alive Committee.

After a Sloppy Joe dinner, parents and students were invited to visit the various tables (with information on the Bond Issues, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, School Improvement Teams, P.A.L./Parent Help, etc.) that were set up in the Halecreek halls. Also, both the P.T.G. and the Student Council had tables with items to sell.

At 7 p.m., the parents were asked to go into the gym and listen to Dr. Bedell, Dan Bales, and Art McPharlin talk about the benefits of passing the millage renewal and the two Bond Issues. Then, at 7:30, principal Lynne Mossoian invited parents to visit their child's classroom. During this time, there were two displays in the library. These displays were to show the parents two examples of the technologies that are being considered for the Romulus Schools. Wasatch gave a demonstration of its educational software and Tandy Corporation gave a demonstration showing a complete encyclopedia stored on a single computer disk.

There were also Board members present and available to discuss and answer questions about the Bond Issue. Officer Koski was there to talk about the DARE program. Lynne Mossoian and Pat Coleman were in classrooms to discuss and answer questions concerning the Positive Discipline Program and the Intervention Room.

Our thanks to everyone who helped out and made this year's Open House a huge success! □

Esther A. Gapuz

Esther A. Gapuz of Romulus died on October 18, 1990, at the age of 73.

Esther, the dear mother of George "Mike" Bryk (Romulus) and Mrs. John (Barbara J.) McFarland (Ypsilanti), is also survived by two brothers, Herbert Dryer (Milford) and Carl Dryer (Cheboygan), and four sisters, Mrs. Elsie Avery (Canton), Mrs. Lillian Gasser (Belleville), Mrs. Bill (Alice) Harvey (Fyfe Lake), and Mrs. Shirley Deacons (Belleville).

Funeral services were held on October 20 at Crane Funeral Home (36885 Goddard, Romulus), with Pastor Dale Gross of South Hill Baptist Church (Milford) officiating. Denton Cemetery (Van Buren Township) was the interment site.

Mack Seeks Reelection as Wayne County Commissioner

submitted by Milt Mack

Before Milt Mack was elected County Commissioner eight years ago, there was a lot of reason to be skeptical of County government. Long-standing political offices had outlived their usefulness, bureaucracy was inefficient, and people felt left out of their own county's government.

Milt Mack promised change. After his election, he made the tough decisions. He stood up to pressures from other interests within the County to solve the problems.

He has been one of the most respected, most visible, and most effective leaders the suburban communities have had in County government. Mack led the effort to streamline County government to bring about efficiency and accountability. He tackled key County issues such as the environment, solid waste, and County services to local communities. Milt recognizes that long-term solutions to regional problems require a broad vision and ability to work at all levels of government.

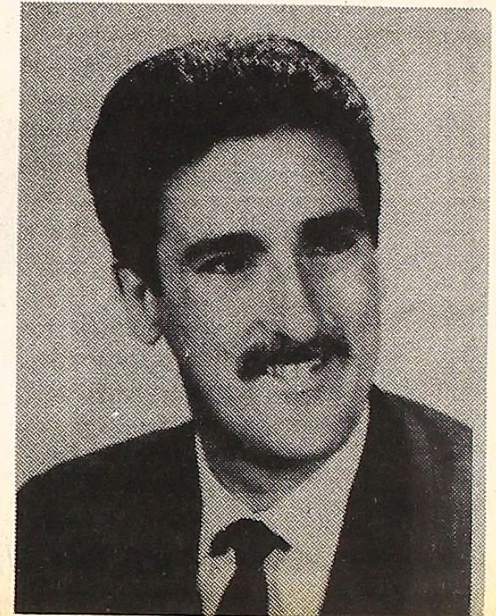

But as active as he is at the regional level, Milt never loses sight of his first priority — service to the citizens of Canton Township, Wayne, Van Buren Township, Romulus, Belleville, Sumpter Township, Huron Township, Flat Rock, and Rockwood. A big district? You bet it is. And you can see Milt crisscrossing it daily, talking with and listening to the people he works for.

The Environment — Issue of the '90s

When everyone else was just talking about the environment, Milt Mack was taking action. He was the primary author of the new Wayne County Solid Waste Plan, and the leading spokesperson in County government for promoting recycling. To Milt Mack, the environment is too important to be trivialized as a trendy political issue.

Milt is a leader in planning development of markets for recycled products in Southeast Michigan. His efforts produced a model ordinance that communities can use to purchase recycled products. Because of his expertise, Mack was asked to work with the Detroit Wayne County Port Authority to develop international markets.

Milt Mack insisted that the Wayne County Solid Waste Plan contain provisions that reduce reliance on landfills. Through his leadership, County ordinances regulating landfills have been strengthened to require greater accountability to the host community and protection to citizens. Another Mack-sponsored ordinance prohibits low-level radioactive waste from County landfills without specific authorization from the affected community.

Milt Mack Is Involved . . .

- Chairman, Wayne County Solid Waste Planning Committee
- Chairperson, Southeast Michigan Council of Governments, 1989-90
- Belleville Lake Action Plan
- Rouge River Basin Strategy Steering Committee
- Detroit/Wayne County Port Authority Project Advisory Committee for Development of Recycling Markets
- Business Attraction and Expansion Council, Greater Detroit/Southeast Michigan Chamber of Commerce
- Commission committee assignments: Roads, Airports, and Public Services; Public Safety and Judiciary; Administration and Rules

Sports Banquet

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Athletic Director

At 6 p.m. sharp on Monday, November 19, the Fall Sports Banquet will be held to honor the tremendous efforts of this year's teams.

Glenda's Catering will once again provide the outstanding meal, and individual awards will be presented by the coaches to their athletes.

All tickets will be sold at the door for $6 to cover the cost of the meal. Letter winners are admitted free. Parents and friends of this year's athletes are encouraged to attend.

For more information, please contact me (941-3414) or your daughter's/son's coach. □

From the A.D.

by Fred Coleman, Romulus Schools Athletic Director

We are quickly approaching what could be the greatest day in my 22 years of involvement in Romulus athletics.

I have been a participant as a coach in the past, and for the past four years I have experienced watching and evaluating our coaches and players, who take on enormous odds and still accomplish great feats within our program.

Fact: The three best conditioners for athletes are running, weight training, and swimming.

Fact: Romulus has no track facility at the High School, no swimming pool, and a weight room that is only about one-third the size of any weight room in nearby communities.

Is this an excuse for our athletes and coaches? No, but it is definitely an obstacle that causes many problems for our programs.

On November 6, Romulus residents will vote on a bond issue that will allow approximately $27 million to upgrade our current facilities and construct two new facilities (a three-gymnasium arena and a swimming facility).

The bond issue (Proposition II) will allow the use of funds without any increase in our current tax rate.

Proposition III is for the construction of the swimming pool, and will involve a small increase in taxes due to the maintenance needed for this type of facility.

I have to assume that, if you are taking the time to read this article, you have a true concern for the future of Romulus Schools and the athletic program.

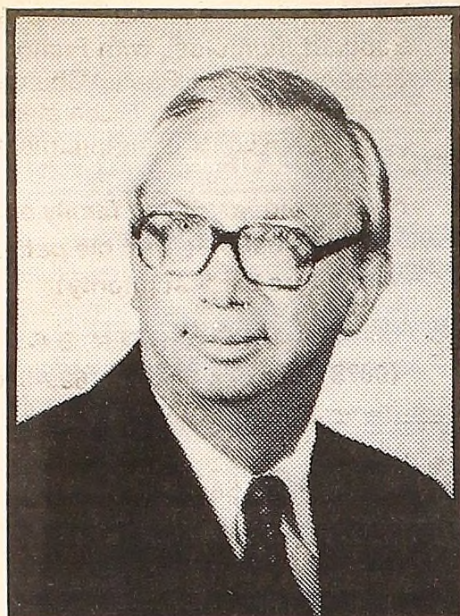

This also tells me that you have probably attended one of our games in recent months and have seen or experienced the parking problems at the football facility, the port-a-johns, the condition of the bleachers, the small restroom facilities at the High School, and the lights that keep going on and off during the games in the gymnasium.

All of these problems are related to the age of our facilities. Simple maintenance cannot repair most of these and other serious problems that we currently have to deal with.

We, as taxpayers, have a unique opportunity to see a large sum of money become available to our district at no additional cost to our tax bills, and best of all is that the entire sum of money will be used to upgrade our current facilities and construct new buildings desperately needed to align us with the future of education throughout the State and Nation.

I truly hope that everyone will make a serious effort to get to the polls on November 6 and that, in the next few days before the election, you will all seek the information needed to help you realize the importance of a "yes" vote for the kids on Propositions I, II, and III.

If I can be of any assistance in helping you to better understand how these proposals will impact the future of Romulus athletes, do not even hesitate to call me at 941-3414. □

RJHS Football

by Don Foley

The Junior High football season ended last week on a high note, as the eighth-grade Bulldogs tied Dexter 0-0, and the seventh graders ran away with a 30-0 win.

The double shutout is indicative of the defensive work done this year by the Bulldogs, who held opponents to a total of 32 points for the season with six whitewashes.

The year saw a lot of players involved, as the season was played in three segments — there were three eighth-grade-only games (1-1-1), three seventh-grade-only games (3-0, all shut-outs), and three both-grades-combined games (2-0-1), for a combined record of 6-1-2 overall.

Though all the kids were winners, a few stood out above the others. For the eighth grade, there were Tyrone Jones, Scott Lange, Chris Marcoullier, Gary Harris, John Pitel, Randy Orme, Gerald Luster, Moses Davis, Michael Bell, Jamie Harris, and Jamal McCain. Davis' run-back of two kickoffs of over 80 yards for touchdowns was the highlight of the eighth-grade season.

The seventh graders were led by Ryan Evans, Jimmy Cox, Paul Carroll, Maurice Franklin, Thomas Taylor, Roy Chambers, David Wilkerson, Bill Hall, John Massey, and Scott Drysdale. The seventh graders' highlight was Taylor's 95-yard TD on the last offensive play of the year.

Coaches Tom Williams and Don Foley were pleased with the kids' improvement and dedication throughout the season. □

Gustafson To Challenge Mack in County Commissioner Race

by Dave Atkins

On Tuesday, November 6, Victor E. Gustafson will challenge incumbent Milt Mack for the position of Wayne County Commissioner.

Gustafson, a 10-year resident of Canton, manages and owns his own company, North American Marketing and Consulting. He and his wife Barbara have three children: Kenneth, Julie, and Erik.

Gustafson's community and professional achievements include serving as:

- Vice Chairman, Planning Commission (Canton)
- Member, Airport Study Committee (Canton)
- Republican Delegate (Canton)
- Founder and President, Home Owners Advisory Council (Canton) — 1987 to 1990
- President, Sunflower Homeowners Association (Canton)
- Chairman, Handicap Children's Fund Raiser (Canton/Plymouth) — 1983 to 1984
- Chairman and President, Plymouth/Canton Football Program — 1981 to 1985
- City Councilman (Harper Woods) — 1970 to 1975
- Secretary, Zoning Board of Appeals (Harper Woods) — 1969 to 1970
- President, Poupard P.T.A. (Harper Woods) — 1968 to 1970
- Secretary, Lions Club (Harper Woods) — 1969 to 1970

When I asked him for particulars concerning his priorities and qualifications for the position of County Commissioner, Gustafson submitted the following information.

Problems of Special Importance to Our District

First of all, many residents of Western Wayne County are concerned with our road system. The following are some specific concerns.

- Roads constructed in the past were often poorly planned. For example, Ford Road should have been planned like Orchard Lake Road, with side accesses to the businesses instead of direct entrances and exits — it's dangerous!
- Roads that were built in the past have not been updated to handle current traffic loads.
- Recently constructed roads fall into disrepair too rapidly.
- The care and maintenance of the entire County road system is very poor. There are too many potholes and open cracks, and a lack of cleaning has resulted in debris-laden streets.
- The placement of traffic signals, special turn lanes, and stop signs is sometimes inadequate.
- It seems that every one of the above items is related to a direct traffic-death or -accident ratio. (Take no action until people are killed in "X" number of accidents. Then study the situation and install the necessary traffic-control devices.)

- We pay for the service of subdivision snowplowing, but really don't receive it. Subdivisions have to pay twice — once to the County in the form of taxes, and a second time to a private contractor.

Another problem is that the County goes about developing projects without communicating with the municipalities, leaving them insufficiently informed. "What's the County doing? Why are they doing this?" I believe that the County should have a toll-free hotline that residents could call to find out where to direct any questions they might have.

Economic growth in Western Wayne County is also a concern. Though the area has a potential for significant economic growth (the I-275 corridor opened the path), that growth seems to be occurring at a snail's pace. We need to aggressively pursue the long-term development of nonautomotive companies to replace the jobs lost in a declining automotive market, and to create the necessary infrastructure to accommodate this potential business development (roads, sewers, etc.).

In conclusion, improving our county road system, working with municipalities, and developing economic growth all represent special maintenance for Western Wayne County. The County's opportunity for a proactive stance with its operations is excellent (example: Los Angeles).

In fact, the County should be the linkage between local government and the State or Federal government. The focus: all three working together for a better place to live and work. Again, the County must take a proactive role rather than a sluggish, reactive posture.

Top Five Goals

As County Commissioner, I will work towards accomplishing the following priorities.

- Work with the County government from a positive direction to help develop the proper focus — Municipality, County, and State all working together.
- Work with the County government to become proactive instead of reactive.
- Work with the County government to develop a solid economic base by seeking new businesses to come to Western Wayne County and utilize its excellent opportunity and work force.
- Develop a workable solution to the wetlands problems in Western Wayne County.
- Work with the County government to help develop light industry, hotels, offices, etc. around Metropolitan Airport. The Airport is an oasis with virtually no complimentary development next to it.
- Work with the County to develop the Willow Run Airport (a "diamond in the rough") to its potential.
- Create a positive presence in the municipalities by visiting and listening to their problems and opinions, and working with the local governments to help accomplish their objectives and solve their problems.

- Work with the Wayne County Commission to become sensitive to the opportunities of the entire county and help develop the Commission into an active part of government, not a mysterious forum that meets twice a month.

Qualifications for Election

Throughout my life, my attitude has always been, "How can we do it better?" This philosophy relates to raising my family, my profession, and my commitment to my community.

The constant search for a "better way" creates an environment of success and has a positive effect on those around you.

In the specific case of involvement in community government, it's unique.

My attitude of getting a good return of investment works.

In conclusion, I have the attitude, desire, and qualifications to breathe a fresh breath of air into County government and a long-term commitment to provide the very best for taxpayers. □

Holiday Craft Workshops

The Romulus Public Library is excited to announce that it will host four successive Monday evening Holiday Craft Workshops for children and their parents beginning November 19. Each session will include information on holiday observances and the making of a craft to take home. On November 19, participants will hear about Hanukkah. Each one will receive the traditional dreidel, and make a craft. On November 26, everyone will learn about Sint Nicolaas, who visits Dutch children in early December. Before the evening is over, both children and parents will make a "surprise" present in which candy is hidden. On December 3, the Library will feature the Scandinavian tradition of making a pinecone wreath. The series will end on December 10, focusing on the cultural celebration of Kwanzaa.

These free holiday craft workshops will be conducted from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Preregistration is necessary, and will begin November 1. First enrollment consideration will be given to those participating in all four workshops. Registration is limited to the first 40 people who

by Officer Rick Schwartz, Romulus Police Department

How many times has it happened to you? You approach an intersection and notice that the traffic signal is not working or the stop signs are missing. Now what do you do? Most drivers just keep on driving and, usually, the end result is an accident.

Here are a couple of easy safety tips. Treat the intersection as you would a four-way stop (if four vehicles arrive at the same time, the vehicle on your right has the right-of-way). Remember, be courteous and watch out for the other guy.

Q. What is the speed limit when getting onto I-94 from I-275, and vice-versa?

A. Maximum speeds on both expressways are 65 mph for cars, 55 mph for trucks, and 50 mph for school buses; the minimum speed is 45 mph. The ramps at this interchange are posted when speeds are to be changed from those mentioned above.

If you have any questions regarding traffic laws, safety, etc., write to Officer Rick Schwartz c/o the Romulus Police Department, 11165 Olive Street, Romulus, Michigan 48174. □

Special thanks are due to Marilyn Masters, Senior Citizens Coordinator for the City of Romulus; Barbara Schultz, Senior Center staff member; Sheila Hicks, Manager of the Romulus Towers; and Mary Butz, Senior Citizens Coordinator for Huron Township, for contributing information to this issue's "Sassy Seniors" column.

News from the Romulus Senior Center

Appraisals by DuMouchelle — From 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. on November 10, Mr. DuMouchelle from DuMouchelle Galleries will be visiting the Center to appraise the value of those precious family heirlooms you've been wondering about for a charge of $3 per item.

TOXIC WASTE INJECTION WELLS

be geologically stable, and the injection zone should not contain recoverable mineral resources such as ores, oil, coal, or gas.

Abandoned wells of any type which penetrate the proposed injection zone are investigated in an area of review within a specified radius of the injection well to assure that they were properly plugged to prevent escape of injected materials.

Construction and Monitoring Requirements

The primary concern in the construction of a Class I injection well is the protection of ground water by assuring containment of the injected wastes through a multilayer protection system. A Class I injection well is constructed in stages, the first stage being the drilling of a hole to a depth below the lowermost USDW. A steel casing or surface pipe is installed the full length of the borehole and cement is placed outside of the casing from the bottom to the top of the hole. This provides a barrier of steel and cement to protect drinking water.

The second phase is to continue drilling below the surface casing down to the intended injection zone. A second protective casing string is installed from the surface down through the injection zone and again cemented in place the entire length of the casing to seal the space outside the casing. A smaller pipe, called injection tubing, is installed inside the protective casing string. The tubing is secured with a wellhead at the surface and a packer at the bottom. The space between the tubing and the protective casing is known as the annulus and it is filled with a noncorrosive fluid. The fluid in the annulus is monitored as a continuous check on the mechanical integrity of the downhole system. Should a leak develop, a change in the annulus pressure would occur and the well could be shut down prior to contamination of a USDW.

Class I injection wells are continuously monitored and controlled with sophisticated equipment. Pressure recording inside and outside of the injection tubing and routine mechanical integrity testing of the components of the well insure containment of the injected fluids.

Closure

When a Class I well is retired from service, the borehole and casing must be securely plugged to prevent any movement of the waste. A properly sealed well, using cements and other materials, permanently confines the waste within the injection zone as well as prevents any movement of high salinity water into a USDW. Thus, a Class I disposal well is secured — not abandoned.

Properly located, designed, constructed, operated and monitored — Class I wells have proven to be an environmentally and technically sound method for the disposal of many liquid wastes which could not be safely disposed of otherwise. □

New Composting Law

submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

James A. Kosteva, State Representative (D-Canton), announced that legislation extending the useful life of Michigan's overburdened landfills has been signed by Governor Blanchard.

The new State law will phase in the prohibition of the disposal of yard clippings — leaves, grass clippings, and other yard debris — in landfills and municipal incinerators. The ban would take effect in two years for yard waste generated on government-owned lands and in four years for yard clippings generated by households. A companion bill by Representative Kay Hart (D-Swartz Creek) will prohibit backyard burning of yard waste unless a local ordinance specifically permits it.

"This legislation, which encourages citizens and local governments to embrace the ethic of composting yard waste, is a win-win situation," said Representative Kosteva. "It saves the environment while it saves local communities the cost of dumping grass clippings and other yard waste in our landfills."

According to the Michigan Department of Natural Resources (DNR), yard waste makes up about 18% to 20% of the solid waste going to 68 landfills currently operating in Michigan. More than 150 communities across the State have already established community composting programs.

"This is a simple but effective method of significantly relieving our landfills crisis and turning waste into valuable resources," said Kosteva. "With this legislation in place, we move one step closer to designing a comprehensive solid waste management plan for Michigan." □

Democratic Commission on Families

submitted by James A. Kosteva, State Representative for the 37th District

James A. Kosteva (D-Canton), State Representative, announced that the final report of the Democratic Commission on Families, of which he is a member, focuses on ways to better utilize existing resources to help working families.

"Family Commission members have spent the last several months traveling around the State, talking with interest groups, businesses, community leaders and families," said Kosteva. "We wanted to learn how the State can help working families find affordable, quality child care, dependent care, and health care."

The recommendations of the Commission include:

- continued support of a National child-care policy,

- enactment of legislation that would create a new State Children and Family Services Agency,
- enactment of current legislation that would create State supported "inter-generational" day-care programs,
- banning discrimination against Medicare recipients, and
- creation of a "Caring Program for Children" by Blue Cross/Blue Shield to provide low-cost health insurance to children.

The Family Commission learned that 36% of the nearly one million uninsured Michigan residents are children and that only 44% of the nearly one million children under age 12 in need of day care have access to licensed day-care facilities.

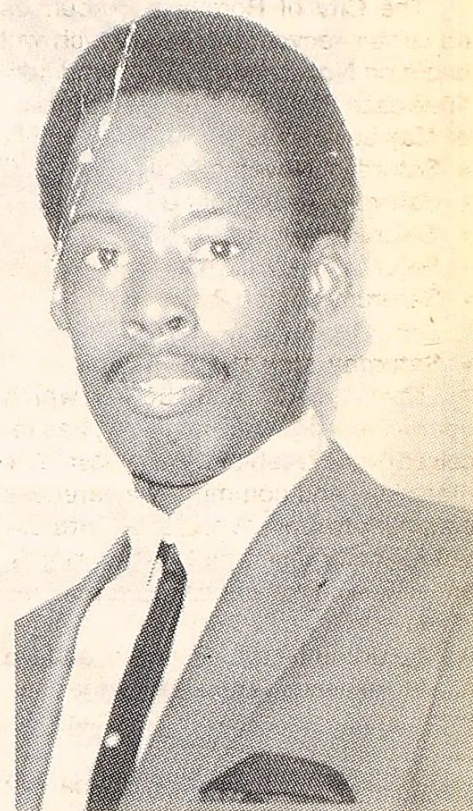

"The number of lives affected by the lack of care is staggering," said Representative Kosteva, "and the price tag attached to solving these problems is high."

"The Commission has recommended a number of promising initiatives to expand existing resources in each of the areas of concern for working families."

"I am very pleased with the work the Commission has accomplished, and I am confident that our recommendations will go a long way towards assuring a better quality of life for Michigan's working families," said Kosteva. □

The City "Drop-Off" Center, which opened in August of this year, has received over 150 cubic yards of recyclable materials, and community awareness continues to grow. "We started out slow, but for being open just three months, and removing the amount of recyclables we have from our waste stream, we feel we are doing an excellent job, and we hope to expand the numbers in the coming months," reports City Recycling Coordinator, Jeffery Martell.

Romulus has received some 150 cubic yards of glass, plastic, newspapers, and recyclable metals at the Center and removed them from its waste stream (in layman's terms, "taken the materials out of a landfill and recycled the materials"). "The cost of landfilling our refuse has skyrocketed the past two years," Martell said. "Dumping fees at the Riverview Municipal Landfill have doubled, so recycling plays an important part in reducing our costs. And by recycling, we not only save taxpayers money, but we save our environment too."

Romulus also has an agreement with BestWay Recycling Inc. and Nelson Paper Company to provide the collecting bins and dumping rights at their plants, both of whom are donating their efforts to the City. "We are really blessed by the fact that two important recycling companies are located in our city, and to have them work in harmony to reduce the current solid waste crisis with us says a lot for both of them," Romulus Mayor Beverly McAnally said.

McAnally, who is an avid supporter of the recycling effort, states, "Recycling is the best means of reducing our dependence on scarce landfill space, and it's very easy to do." But City officials have one small concern — when residents arrive at the drop-off facility, one in five do not prepare the recyclables properly. "Some people think that we can pick through their garbage for recyclables, and we are not in that business," Martell says. "It would help the staff volunteers if all the material is clean and separated, and we could eliminate picking through the garbage. Then we could service more incoming automobiles."

The City requests that labels be removed from all glass containers, and, if possible, from plastic containers too. Clean any aluminum or tin cans, and remove the labels and bottoms to make room for storage in your home. The City also accepts batteries of all sizes — car, boat, and tractor batteries, as well as household types (A, AA, C, etc.). Bundle any newspapers together, and remove all glossy printed magazines, coupons, or flyers.

Some residents have also expressed interest in recycling appliances, and Romulus encourages any of those interested in this to call the Salvation Army at 941-5100 for information on how they can pick up the appliances.

The next six months should be challenging as well as cold in Romulus, but the Recycling Center will be open during the winter months. "As long as we have a growing interest in recycling, as we do, we will make every effort to assist our residents in this effort," said Mayor McAnally. In the coming months, Romulus, in conjunction with the Conference of Western Wayne, will be addressing different community groups with a recycling presentation. The recycling presentation will be funded by a State of Michigan Recycling Grant. Romulus schools, block groups, fraternal organizations, and senior clubs will all be informed of the benefits of the Recycling Program available in the City.

Persons interested in participating in the Drop-Off Center, or who have any questions concerning recycling in Romulus, are encouraged to call the recycling coordinator at 942-7592.

Instructions for Preparing Materials for Recycling (No Trash Accepted)

Some recyclable materials require special handling. Call the City of Romulus Recycling Center at 942-7592 for specifics. No commercial material. All recyclables should be clean of food scraps. Please try to remove all labels.

- Newspapers — Stack newspapers in brown paper bags (no plastic bags) and tie or bundle them together. No loose papers. No magazines, phone books, cardboard, or slick/glossy inserts. If possible, use heavy twine that will not break.

- Glass — Please clean and rinse glass thoroughly and remove labels. Remove lids (which are sometimes tin or aluminum and are recyclable), metal rings, caps, and plastic neck inserts from bottles (if possible). No Pyrex or window glass will be accepted.

- Metals — Tin cans and aluminum products are accepted. Clean pie plates, crumpled foil, cans, food containers, frozen juice lids and ends — anything tin or aluminum! Clean cans thoroughly and remove both ends of the can (if possible); flatten the round can and include with lids to be recycled.

- Miscellaneous/Batteries — Used car, boat, and motorcycle batteries; small-cell home batteries (AAA, AA, A, and C sizes); and other brass, copper, and stainless steel products are acceptable.

- Plastics — Any plastic with the marking of a #1 code (Pet Plastic) or a #2 code (HDPE Plastic). Cloudy, opaque, and colored plastic containers can be recycled. No yogurt or cottage cheese containers, please. Cloudy milk and water jugs, as well as colored and white containers for bleach, laundry detergent, ammonia, Woolite, dishwashing detergent, etc., can be recycled! Rinse thoroughly, remove labels and caps (they cannot be recycled), and stomp on jugs or containers to flatten them and save space for handling.

- Appliances — The Salvation Army will accept appliances that are old but operational or having minor problems only. The Salvation Army will remove these appliances from your home, but they must be outside or in your garage. The Salvation Army is not responsible for removing them from inside your home. Call 941-5100 for appliance removal. □
